RADIO NEWSPAPERS NEED SPECIAL BOARD

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—(BUP)—The Canadian Daily Newspapers Association said today that facsimile broadcasting should be directed by an independent body to prevent government control of news distribution.

The association, in a brief handed to the Massey arts commission, said the board should be directly responsible to parliament only. "As presently constituted it would appear that facsimile would, as in the case of radio broadcast, be under direct and absolute control of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation," the report said.

This would place news distribution in the hands of government authorities, the association said. Facsimile broadcasts would have

China Abandoned, Tory Critic Says

Pearson Readies Answer To Opposition Charges

By Robert W. Reford
BUP Correspondent

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(BUP)—The government was preparing an answer today to opposition charges that Canada had abandoned China to the Communists.

External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson told parliament yesterday that the government would not recognize the Chinese Communist regime "in due course." He reported it was considering bringing the Ambassador to China before a special Commons committee.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative member for Peel, Ont., said Ambassador T. C. Davis should unfold the full story of the Communist victory march. Graydon said Davis would be abandoned "in Imperialist aggression." He added that parliament "should know what information exists on possibilities of further aggression in the far east."

Pearson was listed as chief witness before the all-party House Foreign Affairs Committee expected to convene late today or when the foreign affairs debate closed. He had no comment on the possibility that Davis would testify.

SEEKS OPINIONS

It was learned, however, he had been meeting other cabinet members, possibly to sound them out on the attitude they thought he should take.

The opposition indicated it was fully behind the administration's handling of world diplomacy and that it had no specific ideas to improve on it.

Graydon, besides his reference to China, spoke of relations with Britain and particularly with the Royal Family.

He urged invitations be extended to them to visit Canada. He noted that Princess Margaret would come to this continent next year and hoped the reports were correct.

Graydon also suggested Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent visit other parts of the Commonwealth, particularly India, and that such a trip would help solidify Commonwealth relations.

used the word situation, with the following highlights:
China—Regarding recognition of the Chinese Communist, "we ought certainly to have contacts with that large area of the world. It seems difficult to justify full diplomatic relations with the Soviet government in Moscow and remaining without de facto contacts with its enormous offshoot in China." He agreed, however, that action should come only after consultation with the Commonwealth and the United States.

Germany—He urged formal admission of West Germany into the council of Europe at an early date because "1950 may well prove a critical year as to how the minds of the Germans will turn."

Spain—"Fancy having an ambassador in Moscow and not having one in Madrid."
Czechoslovakia—He bitterly denounced the British Labor government for supporting Czechoslovak candidate for membership on the United Nations security council in opposition to Yugoslavia. He said the Czechs have become "a mere pawn in the Kremlin game."

Uniformity Urged In Transport

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Co-ordinated control of all forms of land transportation in Canada is urged in a brief submitted to the Royal Commission on Transportation by the Railway Association of Canada.

The association, representing practically all the steam railroads, also proposed in its brief made public last night that highway transportation be assessed a greater share of the cost of building the roads it uses.

The brief called for a national transportation policy including:
1. Uniform regulation and control of highway transport, which the association contends is competing unfairly with the railways because it is "subsidized" through highway construction.

2. A study of the costs of the highway system chargeable to its users.

3. An "adequate and proper" distribution of these costs among the various classes of motor vehicles.

"A continuance of the present situation may well lead to a breakdown of the entire transportation system in Canada," the association declared.

It called for dominion-provincial discussions leading to agreement by the provinces that their highway regulatory bodies would act in accordance with agreed national policy and that provinces would enact uniform legislation on the subject.

Papal Blast Russ Aimed

By NORMAN MONTELLIER
United Press Correspondent
CASTLE, GANDOLFO, Italy—(UP)—Pope Pius XII's "today" speech clearly aimed a Russian that fear of war would grip the world as long as one nation used force to reduce others to slavery.

The Pope voiced his warning in a speech at his summer "head-quarters" to seven U.S. senators making up an armed forces sub-committee now on a tour of Europe.

The Pontiff was unusually blunt in declaring that a state created a "very mean" of civil society by eliminating the Christian principles of justice and charity.

Referring to the application of justice for the third time in two weeks, he told the senators that "however wise, can hardly hope to prevail, on weak or perverse is human nature unless it has the backing of a reasonable force."

"But the true function of the force will be to protect and defend, the right given to men by God and just law, not to whittle them down and crush them," he said.

ALMOST ANYONE can get a driver's license in Alberta—even a dog. Bulletin reporter Stanley Burke's dog Rover is seen here proud as Pekinese over his new driver's license.

Burke's Dog Licensed To Drive Car

By STAN BURKE
Bulletin Staff Reporter

I got my dog a driver's license. As most people know, it is no problem for anyone to obtain a permit to drive a car on the highway of Alberta.

Everyone else has a license, I thought.

Why not Rover?

So I went down to make a few enquiries.

"Does the person who is getting a license have to come down here and get it for himself, or can someone else get it for him?" I asked the girl at the wicket in the provincial administration building.

She told me all the motor vehicles branch requires is a slip nature on the application.

Nothing more.

So I took one of the little green forms home for Rover.

Now, of course, everybody knows a dog can't write. So I signed for him. Perhaps that's not entirely legal, but it was good enough for the motor vehicles branch.

On the application there was a little blank where it says something about "how many miles have you driven?"

ABOUT 1,000

I filled in a conservative estimate of 1,000 miles for Rover.

In our tour across the country I imagine he has covered a good many more miles than that. But then I always like to be on the safe side.

When the card was all nicely filled out I took it back to the young lady who obligingly made out the license to "Rover Burke."

License number, 235287. It was, I had expected she might ask a few questions about Rover since there are not very many holders of driver's licenses with names like that. But there wasn't a murmur.

1949-50 DRIVER'S LICENSE No. 235287

This is to certify that the person named herein whose signature appears below is hereby licensed to operate a motor vehicle, otherwise than as a passenger in a motor vehicle, in Alberta.

(Signature of Stanley Burke)
Date: Nov 17, 1949. 10-10-49

Signature of Driver to take: (Signature of Stanley Burke) Deputy Provincial Secretary.

Class: Licensee at all times when operating Motor Vehicle.

ROVER is now qualified driver of auto in Alberta. This little green ticket entitles him to drive, but owner Stanley destroyed it after proving his point.

No fun, no bother, no questions asked. She just had to take my word for it.

I paid my dollar and away I went. Of course, I know Rover can't drive so I've torn up his license.

For all she knew, Rover might have been blind, crippled or just would do the same thing.

Dental Men Discount Drill's Disappearance

By John McLean
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Even a guinea pig would have trouble brushing his teeth with his tongue in his cheek.

But that's the picture presented by those who are counting heavily on new ammunition tools powder, according to the president of the Canadian Dental Association.

"Don't expect too much from them," said Dr. G. V. Fisk, who is in Edmonton on a national tour.

Dr. Fisk is accompanied by Dr. Donald Gullett, secretary of the association. Both men are from Toronto.

The two dental men had nothing but bad news for 100 per cent of the population, that is, those who cling at the mere sound of a drill.

They said that more than 90 per cent of Canadian children suffer from defective teeth. And, except in certain sections of the country where dental health programs have been instituted, decay is on the increase.

"Civilization and the way we live," were blamed by Dr. Gullett for the present high rate of tooth decay.

"Candy? Soft drinks?" Both bad for the teeth, said the doctor.

What about tooth paste? Dr. Gullett coughed lightly, said we were having fine weather in Edmonton and handed over a printed statement.

We shook hands. It didn't hurt a bit.

Elbow Grease Grows Blue Ribbon Grain

Lots Of Hard Work, Says World Champion In Oats and Barley

By James A. Sherbanuk
Bulletin Correspondent

HAIRY HILL, Nov. 17.—John Elluk is an old-fashioned farmer.

Maybe that's why yesterday he became the first double winner at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair, when he won the world's oats and barley championships.

He doesn't own any power machinery at all—his farming is done strictly with horses and old equipment.

If he had the biggest farm in the country—it's the same quarter-section he's been working since 1902—and he says he certainly has the richest farmer in the district, but he works a clean, tidy piece of land, and he does it carefully.

PATIENCE, HARD WORK

The quiet, simple-living farmer is like so many of his fellow Ukrainians, who have worked steadily since they emigrated to this country and helped to make Canada one of the world's greatest grain-growing nations.

And John Elluk has a whole household of ribbons and trophies to prove that patience and hard work are still the best formula for a successful farmer.

Here he is, cupping prizes right and left ever since he entered his first grain contest in 1920, when he won sixth prize for his barley at the Chicago fair. Since then he's been taken practically every prize in Alberta competitions.

But hard work comes easy to

Mr. Elluk. He's been doing lots of it since he was born 25 years ago in Bukovina, then a province of Austria in central Europe.

AS GOOD-JOBS MAN

He came to Canada when he was 15, in 1912, and worked as a laborer. Then he moved to Alberta in 1913 and spent the next nine years working wherever he could find a job.

In 1922 he settled on the same 60 acres he now farms, seven miles out of Hairy Hill about 60 miles northwest of Edmonton.

And what has he learned in the past 27 years to make him the best oats and barley grower in the world?

He says that the only way to grow good grain is to put everything you have into the job—lots of hard work and elbow grease.

"There is no education or schooling that can teach you to grow prize-winning crops."

"It takes years of experience and hard work to make anything of farming."

And he's got that household of ribbons and trophies to prove it.

"It simply means that we are going to retain the word 'architect' in Mr. Duke's title."

Russ Lose Friends by Cynical Ambition

Less Anxiety By Free People To Understand Soviet Is Apparent

By Norman Altshuler

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 17.—(CP)—Hector McNeil of Britain told the United Nations the world is not on the verge of war but time for an understanding between Russia and the western world "steadily, if gradually, runs out."

The British minister of state pleaded yesterday with Russia's foreign minister to tell the Soviet people that "the conscience of the world is evolved by the mechanical cynicism of the Soviet regime."

Charging that Soviet leaders are campaigning to "murder peace," McNeil told that Russia maintains a mobilized army of 4,000,000 men while Britain has reduced her forces from a wartime high of 5,000,000 to 700,000 and this year is reducing British forces another 20,000 without evidence of reduction in Russia's armed forces.

"I do not think the Stalinist regime contemplates war, and certainly no one else does," McNeil added. "But it must be plain that this campaign to sabotage peace is as disastrous in its consequences as its failure."

"Test it anywhere, by sampling opinion, by calculating the votes of free peoples, by the votes and opinions of this committee, and it will be seen that anxiety to understand Russia is running out."

"Relations do not improve, and the danger is that the free world, emboldened, reified, misrepresents, will reduce to a minimum its relations with the Soviet government."

"The world is too small for division. The danger of accidental war will never be absent."

VISHINSKY'S BITTER

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky answered in biting tones McNeil's pleas. "The free Russian said his country will not 'open her windows' to such agencies as the British Broadcasting Corporation and the Voice of America—which, he said, are trying to spur revolt in Russia."

Turning his attack towards Paul Martin, Vishinsky said the speech yesterday by Canada's health minister was "hypocritical and outrageous." Martin had challenged V's arrest frontiers.

Football Picture Coming To Rialto

Different-Type Sports Film Is 'Easy-Living' Feature

Most football pictures consist chiefly of gridiron action building up to a climax in which the hero makes a 35-yard run for the winning touchdown in the last ten seconds of play.

"Easy Living" is the RKO Radio offering coming to the Rialto theatre tomorrow smartly subordinates its gridiron action to a delving private life problems of the players on a crack professional team, and in so doing has come up with an absorbing and thoroughly realistic human drama.

The central character is the team's star halfback, married to an extravagant and ambitious wife, whose hope for his future are blasted when he loses out on a college coaching position he had counted on and when he also learns that his football days are numbered because of a serious heart ailment.

His efforts to patch up his marital difficulties and adjust his life to meet the new conditions motivate the story.

Victor Mature, portraying the role, does a splendid job of it. Co-starred with him are Lucille Ball as the team's secretary deeply interested in him, Elizabeth Scott as his wife, Sonny Tufts as his best friend, and Lloyd Nolan as manager-coach. All five of them turn in superb performances.

Jacques Tourneur's direction of the production by Robert Sparks keeps the action moving, the treatment sympathetic and the characters realistic. Charles Schnee has written a convincing screenplay from the Irwin Shaw story upon which "Easy Living" is based.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—I am pleased to report today that Esther Williams' figure is even better since she had a baby.

Yep, it's true. What effect this news will have on the national birth rate is a question. It may help push the United States toward the 300,000,000 population mark President Truman has been talking about.

I happened to observe the movie mermaid's figure on the set of "Duchess of Idaho." Strictly from a reporter's viewpoint, you understand. It seemed to me the chassis was as classy as ever. If not classier.

I asked if there had not been some improvement to the mermaid's figure. "It's strange," she admitted, "but I seem to have lost an inch from my hips. None of my dresses fit any more."

The vital statistics? "I'm still 36," she said, indicating the general vicinity of her bust, "35 in the waist and 35 in the hips. I used to be 36 in the hips and 36 in the waist. I should be able to take off that half inch with no trouble."

But wait a little minute, added Esther. She doesn't want to convey the impression that her figure magically improved after motherhood.

"Other mothers will hate me," she said. "They know it's no cinch to gain back your figure after having a child."

IT ISN'T EASY

"Every mother owes it to herself and her husband to do all she can to get her figure back to normal. Nature needs a little help in this matter, for only exercise and proper diet can tighten the muscles and tone up general health."

"It was lucky to be able to start slimming a month after my baby arrived. I have also been conscientiously looking my tons and doing other exercises for the first time in my life. And I feel wonderful."

"It isn't easy, but it's certainly worth the effort. I'd do it even if I weren't in pictures. After all, any mother likes to be able to step on the scales without chafing."

Okay, mothers, take it from here.

Top-Flight Tenor Features Opening

Jean Letourneau Soloist On CHFA Sunday Program

One of Canada's outstanding concert artists and a prime CBC program favorite, Jean Letourneau, will feature opening broadcast of French radio station CHFA next Sunday.

Jean Letourneau, a native of Quebec city, was awarded a Toronto Conservatory of Music singing scholarship in 1941. He studied under George Lambert and other famous teachers in Montreal and New York.

Musicians in Toronto had the opportunity of admiring Jean Letourneau's outstanding talent when they attended the concert given by the Toronto Symphony orchestra and Mendelssohn choir. Both have featured Jean Letourneau for their regular concerts and for the annual joint presentation of Bach's "Passion" according to St. Matthew.

The top-ranking French-Canadian tenor was also heard in recitals in many eastern cities, with "Les Concerts Symphoniques de Montreal" and on the airwaves over the Canadian network of the CBC. 5,000 Watts — 680 on your dial to our listening audience ...

It is a very pleasant duty for me to be able to announce at last the official opening date of Radio Station CHFA. It is on November 20th, 1949, at 2:30 p.m. This delay is inevitable due to the fact that technical tests are not yet completed. Nevertheless, we believe being able to start our operations on a regular schedule on the very first days of December; The Bulletin will give you the required information in due time.

For the first few days, CHFA, 680 kc., will operate only during the day-time, that is from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. This delay is inevitable due to the fact that technical tests are not yet completed. Nevertheless, we believe being able to start our operations on a regular schedule on the very first days of December; The Bulletin will give you the required information in due time.

I have been asked to define the policy of Station CHFA, which I have the honour to direct; it is an easy thing to do. The aim of our radio broadcasts, recreational as well as educational, will be solely to have us better known and understood by our English-speaking citizens and at the same time to prevent French-Canadians from forgetting their mother tongue, since circumstances have placed them in a somewhat difficult situation.

We do not wish to impose ourselves, we are only taking advantage of a right granted to minorities of the East as well as those of the West, by the Canadian Government.

Our opinions might have differed before, but it was our privilege to be able to express our opinion. Today we are eager to express our thanks to those who have supported us in our cause, including those who firmly believed it was their duty to prevent the creation of a French Station in Edmonton; for when we have to face an accomplished fact it is without doubt democratically better to co-operate fully.

I am convinced that all of us will get along fine, and that CHFA will be the best medium to promote a better understanding between the majority and the minority of this beautiful Province that is Alberta.

We assure those who have placed their confidence in us by entrusting us the direction and administration of CHFA, of our entire devotedness.

T. GAREAU,
Acting Manager,
Programme Director,
Radio Station CHFA,
680 kc., 5000 watts.

Long live CHFA! CHFA will progress! CHFA will be victorious!

MANY TECHNICAL experts are required at a modern radio station. Here is young Robert Guy, transmitter technician at station CHFA.

IF YOU visit radio station CHFA studios on 107 street, you'll be greeted amiably by Miss Simone St. Arnaud, receptionist at new French language station.

AT CONTROL panel in radio station CHFA will be one of operating crew in studio control room.

ONE OF CHFA studio operators is young Laurier LeClair. New station has numerous technical problems that take time to solve.

MUCH hard spadework leading up to licensing of French radio station CHFA was done by Rev. Father Broton. Father Broton is secretary of Radio Edmonton Limited, company behind CHFA, and chief editor of Edmonton's French language newspaper La Survivance.

TURNING English as it is spoken into French is job of Translator Laval Cléche at radio station CHFA.

Many Problems Over For French Station

Unusual technical problems had to be solved in the planning and construction of Edmonton's new French language radio station CHFA.

Dr. F. C. Howes, brilliant consulting engineer on the staff of McGill University, was brought to Edmonton from the east to tackle the job.

The following had to be kept in mind: (1) Location of the French-speaking population in Alberta; (2) Selection of an available frequency which would be best to the job.

Dr. Howes chose 680 kilocycles frequency with 5,000 watts power because Radio Station KNBC, San Francisco, uses the same frequency.

A directional antenna was necessary to beam transmission north. As the greatest portion of French-speaking people are located to the north of the city, this feature did not handicap the engineer.

Dr. Howes also chose the site of the transmitter station one and one-half miles east of the Calgary highway, nine miles south of the City of Edmonton.

NEW MANAGER
Roman LeClair was appointed manager in January.

It was decided to purchase RCA after a study of many types of equipment.

Bob Lamb of CPN in Calgary, helped in supplying measurements and other information.

Technical installation is practical, functional and economical.

A few of the more salient features are heating of the building by transmitter heat when in operation, reinforced foundations and basement partitions, almost fire-proof construction throughout and centralization of operations.

The control desk is only a few steps from bedroom, washroom, kitchenette, workshop, tube shop and lobby.

There is also centralization of switch and fuse panels, with voltage regulators, power and telephone line supply on a single wall.

PLANNING
The building itself is so placed as to be in direct line with the transmission line.

Plans were drawn by the Edmonton firm of Bixley and Bixley, architects, and Morin Bros. obtained the building contract.

Equipment was placed in storage pending completion of buildings.

The three transmission towers were set up in April by Ajax Engineers, Toronto. Larry Bradshaw and Jack Robinson erected masts in almost record time.

While transmitter work proceeded, work on studio buildings was also progressing.

The Edmonton studios were a problem, surrounded by noise of every kind, with trains, streetcars and heavy trucks passing the 100 Street building almost every minute of the day and night.

By use of gypsum tile on cork, isolated rooms on floating floors, floor glass and acoustic tile, soundproofing was finally achieved.

Final tests for Department of Transport were finally conducted by J. A. Collins of RCA while technical installation was being completed in the studios.

On the appointed day, CHFA was ready to broadcast.
